FURTHER SOUTHERN DRIVE.

NORTHERNERS RETREAT ON TSINAN.

AMERICAN DESTROYER FIRED ON NEAR HANKOW.

STUDENT REDS ARRESTED.

According to reports from Chinese sources, the Nationalists have further progressed in their drive on the North, and are reputed to have captured Tsining, south of Tsinan, thus causing a Northern retreat in the direction of the capital of Shantung.

There is undoubted confirmation of the fact that Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang is closely approaching the Wu-han cities, large numbers of Red troops having been forced back across the river and into Wuchang. There is much troop movement among the forces of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek lower down the river.

Further indiscriminate firing on foreign vessels in the region of Hankow is reported, one of the ships concerned on Saturday being an American destroyer, a British vessel having been fired on the previous day.

A further round-up of "Reds" has taken place at Canton, the Sun Yat-sen University being raided on Saturday, a large number of students being arrested and placed in gaol. It is alleged that they were receiving monthly subsidies from Moscow.

Shanghai, July 4. are making house-to-house visits Marshal Chiang Kai-shek has ordered a general attack against Wuhan. General Chu Pei-teh, who was thought to have joined the Hankow Reds, has been ordered to march on Hupeh from Kiangsi.

Generals Tsa Tao-yin and Yang Sen are commanded to meet General Feng Yu-hsiang's army in Hankow within a week's time. Four gunboats have been sent up to Wusueh for aiding in the attack on Hankow. General Feng Yu-hsiang reports that his army is approaching Hankow and expects to capture the Wuhan cities in two weeks.—Nam Chung Pao.

TSINING CAPTURED?

The Dispute Between Allied Forces.

Shanghai, July 4. It is claimed in a Hsuehow telegram that the 7th Army under General Li Chung-yan captured Tsining on the afternoon of July 1st and are thus threatening Tsinan.

Marshal Chang Tsung-chang has seized all available cars and locomotives of the Tientsin-Pukow railway and is preparing to retreat toward Tsinan and Tchow, according to the telegram.

Marshals Chang Tsung-chang and Sun Chuan-fang have both telegraphed to the Peking Dictator on the latest controversy between their respective armies. Chang Tsao-lin has replied instructing the Shantung army to change places with Sun Chuan-fang's army, the Shantungies to defend the Kiao-chow-Tsinan line while Sun Chuan-fang's army is to take over the Tientsin-Pukow line.

Pan Fu, the Peking Premier, is being sent down to Shantung. It is stated, to settle the dispute between the two armies.—Nam Chung Pao.

THREAT TO HANKOW.

American Destroyer Fired On.

Hankow, July 3. Some confirmation of Feng Yu-hsiang's threat to the Wu-han cities is contained in the hurried troop movements which are taking place. Large numbers of "Red" troops are collecting on the south bank of the Yangtze and in Wuchang.

Cruising just below Hwangchow yesterday, an American destroyer was subjected to considerable "un-fire" from the shore. The day before a British steamer was fired at, and three Chinese passengers wounded.

Representations have been made, but both the Hankow and Nanking military authorities disclaim any responsibility for the troops guilty of this indiscriminate firing. The situation is, otherwise, little changed.—Naval Wireless.

C. N. C. STRIKE.

THE LOCAL SILENCE MAINTAINED.

COMPANY'S CASE REVIEWED.

The latest addition to the China Navigation Company vessels tied up in Hongkong as the result of the strike of the European deck officers and engineers, is the s.s. Kwangtung, which arrived on Saturday from Bangkok. There are now ten vessels lying idle, including the Canton river steamer Patsung.

Today is the fifth day of the strike, and although it seems clear that negotiations are in progress, both the Company and the Guilds are maintaining silence in connection with the dispute, and possible recent developments.

It has been rumoured that Messrs. Butterfield and Swire had ordered certain officers from the ships in Harbour, but at the local offices this morning, we were asked to officially deny the story. The C. N. Co. has not interfered with the strikers in any way.

Beyond that, the Company officials refused to make any statement in the matter, while admitting that there was no likelihood of any of their vessels sailing at the present time.

The Guild Secretary also declined to make any statement for publication. A Telegraph representative was told to-day that the position at present was that the Guild would neither deny nor confirm any information which might reach the Press through other channels.

Another Rumour.

Another rumour which is current, but about which the Guild and Company decline to pass comment, is that in order to bring matters to a head, the officers have threatened to leave the ships entirely at noon to-day. It is understood that something of this kind has been mooted, but that the suggestion has met with a very mixed reception amongst the officers themselves.

STATEMENT BY COMPANY.

The 1916 Settlement and Arbitration.

The following statement has (says last Wednesday's N. C. Daily News) been obtained from the China Navigation Co. regarding the present dispute with the officers' and engineers' guilds:

As far back as July, 1925, the secretaries of the Guilds have been aware that if dislocation and suspension of the company's services on account of the disturbed political conditions in China continued, a reduction in pay might have to be made.

The question was again discussed in January, 1926, and in September, 1926, the company specially invited the Shanghai and Hongkong secretaries to a meeting when the position was explained and discussed with them, and they were advised that the time had come when a reduction must be made. The company have throughout been reluctant to reduce the scale of pay even temporarily; they have postponed it as long as they possibly could, and it was not put into effect until April 1 this year.

The Adjustment Board.

On April 29 the secretaries wrote to the company calling for an adjustment board under the agreement of May, 1916, and on May 24 stated that members of the Guilds would cease work on June 30 unless the dispute was submitted to such adjustment board or the level of pay restored.

The company informed them that the effects on the company's position of the critical political situation in China, and the consequent necessity for the reduction, are not matters they could submit to arbitration and that they must retain freedom to meet the situation which, it must be evident to everyone, is subject to extraordinary changes following upon long periods of stoppage.

possible by political means and not to resort to force of arms. Though we are of course desirous of coming to terms with the Nanking Government which is opposed to the Communist Party, the compromise question has not yet made a progress worthy of mention.

POLICE RESERVE ENLARGED.

INTERNATIONAL COMPANY BEING FORMED.

FOR ONE YEAR'S SERVICE.

In the latest police Reserve orders issued by the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, C. S. P., it is stated:—"It has been decided to form an International Company of the Hongkong Police Reserve open to all nationalities except those belonging to Companies already formed or in process of formation (i.e., Chinese, Indian and Portuguese). Service will be of one year's duration, and the intention is to have always in readiness a body of trained, uniformed men to assist the regular Police Force in the case of emergency.

"Training will comprise simple squad and arms drill for these who have not already been trained, and a series of lectures on police work.

"British, American, Scandinavian and other nationalities interested are invited to apply to the Adjutant for particulars, or to call personally at his office at Police Headquarters on any weekday, between 9.30 a.m. and 12.30 p.m."

SEDITIONARY PAPERS.

SEQUEL TO SEIZURES IN HONGKONG.

A police raid which was carried out at No. 21 Sharp Street East, second floor, on June 18, revealed a quantity of seditious literature and a letter, which were promptly seized, and two men who were found on the premises were arrested.

This morning they appeared before Major C. Willson at the Central Magistracy, charged with being in possession of seditious literature. Sergt. Rozeskyw prosecuted.

It appears that when the place was searched the documents were found to be in possession of the first man, but it was believed that the second prisoner was the principal tenant.

The first prisoner admitted that the documents belonged to him, and said he would not have trusted them with the second man.

His Worship sentenced the first defendant to four months' hard labour, and the second was discharged, the magistrate remarking that the evidence against him was very weak.

FOURTH OF JULY.

AMERICAN COMMUNITY CELEBRATES.

The American community is enjoying a general holiday to-day, the Fourth of July, in celebration, simultaneously, of Independence Day and the birthday of President Coolidge. British naval craft in harbour dressed ship in honour of the occasion.

The U.S. Consulate-General and all American business firms are closed for the day, and this afternoon the American community will be at home to their friends at the Roof Garden of the Hongkong Hotel, from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

It is understood that a large dinner party, at which the guests are expected to number about 300, will be held at the Hongkong Hotel this evening.

Owing to the difficulty of raising teams, the annual baseball match between married and single men of the U.S. community will not be played.

The Cafe Parisien has arranged a special celebration dinner for this evening.

CAR TOUTS.

CLEAN UP IN PEDDER STREET.

Four men and a boy, the latter fourteen years old, were summoned before Major C. Willson at the Central Police Court this morning for toutting for car passengers in Pedder Street yesterday.

The men were fined $12, or fourteen days' imprisonment, and the boy was ordered to receive ten strokes of the birch.

NAVAL DEADLOCK?

BRITISH SUBMARINE PROPOSAL.

GOVERNMENTS CONSULTED.

Geneva, July 3.

Despite the three delegations being pledged to secrecy with regard to the details of the naval discussions, and the members of the delegation absolutely refusing a statement, nevertheless what appear to be leakages continue.

For example, a local paper alleges that the technical committee has completely disagreed with regard to the British submarine proposal, limiting this type of craft to two classes, of limited tonnage and armament, the Americans and Japanese opposing. Consequently the discussion was adjourned pending negotiations between the heads of the delegations.

Reuter has been unable to obtain either a confirmation or a denial of this report from reliable quarters.—Reuter.

An Earlier Message.

Washington, July 3. American officials are disposed to join issue with Britain's suggestion at Geneva to fix the total cruiser tonnage at 600,000 instead of 800,000 proposed by the Americans, and if the former insisted Mr. Gibson will be forced to abandon his efforts to reach an agreement on cruisers which will thus be held in abeyance till 1931, when the five Powers signatory to the Washington Pact will re-meet.—Reuter's American Service.

SHANGHAI ROBBERS SHOT.

1 KILLED, AND 2 WOUNDED.

As a result of a gun battle which occurred on Wednesday morning in Chungking Road, Shanghai, between the police and three armed robbers, one robber is dead, one in a serious condition and the other wounded, but not seriously.

The affair occurred at about 7 o'clock. The robbers attacked a dwelling house, the alarm was raised and the police, who were quickly upon the scene, were in time to take a hand. Inspector Mills and other officers of the Sinza Police Station were responsible for the prompt assistance.

$200,000 CARNEGIE GIFT.

PLAYING GROUNDS DONATION.

The Carnegie Trustees have given $200,000 to assist the London playing-fields campaign, sponsored by the Duke of York.

They point out that their grants hitherto have been devoted to cultural movements, but they consider the time is now ripe to provide playgrounds. Grants will be made to local authorities for the acquisition of land.

HOSPITAL COMFORTS.

MORE GIFTS ACKNOWLEDGED.

The Hospital Committee begs to acknowledge, with very many thanks, receipt of the following gifts for the Hospital:

Five gramophone records, nine packets of playing cards with scoring blocks, from Mr. T. Dalin; one and a half dozen tea milk-jug covers each from Mrs. E. M. White, and Mrs. C. H. Atkins.

SPANISH NON-STOP FLIGHT.

PROJECTED HOP TO SOUTH AMERICA.

Madrid, June 26.—The recent successes of Chamberlin, Levine and Lindbergh, American transatlantic fliers, have inspired the Spanish military aviator Espinosa to attempt a non-stop flight from Spain to South America.

The proposal is now before Premier de Rivera for approval.

CARLTON "FOLLIES" CASE.

CHARGES OF DRUNKENNESS NOT ESTABLISHED.

REVUE ARTISTE SUCCEEDS.

So far as H. M. Supreme Court is concerned, "Finis" has been written to the case which aroused a lot of interest in Shanghai in which a former revue artist of the "Carlton Follies" sued the Carlton Ltd. for the sum of Tls. 1,461.09 for breach of contract. On Tuesday last, His Honour, Judge Peter Grain, awarded the plaintiff the sum of Gold $873 less Mex. $100 together with the costs of the action.

Plaintiff in the case was Miss Mary Theresa Gordon, who came to Shanghai last December under an agreement with the Carlton Ltd., to perform in the "Carlton Follies" with six other American girls. Her services were dispensed with last March by the manager, Mr. Al. Israel, on the grounds that she was not qualified to fulfil the position for which she was engaged and that her conduct and behaviour justified the dismissal.

Miss Gordon and another member of the revue, Miss Jewel Carrol, claimed they had been wrongfully dismissed and that there had been a breach of the contract entered into with the Carlton Ltd., which called for a six months' engagement. Each of the plaintiffs claimed from the Carlton Ltd., the sum mentioned above, being made up of salary for the unexpired part of the contract, return passage to America and board and lodging.

The Carlton Ltd., represented by Mr. J. M. Badelley, denied that there was any contract with the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs were represented by Mr. Reader Harris.

It was agreed at the commencement of the hearing that the case of Miss Gordon should be tried first and that the case of Miss Jewel Carrol would stand or fall by the decision reached in that action by the Court.

His Honour found that there had been a definite agreement with Miss Gordon to perform at the Carlton Cafe for six months. He also found that the charges of drunkenness and incompetence, alleged by the defendants, had not been established and consequently, there was no power to dismiss the plaintiff before the expiration of her agreement.

TELEPHONE CABLE MISHAP.

EAST END SUBSCRIBERS AFFECTED.

Telephone subscribers in the Happy Valley and Magazine Gap districts have been affected during the past two days by a breakdown in one of the Company's cables which carries many of the lines to those parts of the Colony.

Repairs are being effected with all speed, we are informed by the Company, but for about two days more all subscribers east of the Naval Yard and those in the vicinity of Magazine Gap will be liable to interruption.

It is explained that the Nos. of subscribers affected can be called by subscribers in other districts, but that they cannot originate a call.

Every effort is being made to expedite the work of repair.

CANADA AND THE U. S. A.

CORDIAL SENTIMENTS EXPRESSED.

Ottawa, July 3.

Mr. Phillips, the new United States Minister to Canada, and Colonel Lindbergh, were the guests of honour at an official dinner in Parliament buildings.

Mr. Phillips read a message from President Coolidge expressing from American goodwill towards Canada, and rejoicing at the Canadian jubilee, declaring that the Americans are ever ready to co-operate with the Canadians in everything leading towards peace and progress.—Reuter's American Service.

PACIFIC FLIGHT.

HOW AIRMEN REACHED HAWAII.

LONG TRIP WITHOUT FOOD.

Washington, June 29.—Maitland and Hegenberger will return to the United States by steamer and their plane will be left in Hawaii for the use of the army, the War Department announced to-day.

Enthusiasm of army officials here over the Honolulu flight was held in check until success was assured. Then, as the news that Maitland and Hegenberger had made it was received, all official barriers were broken down for a few minutes, and Byrd's attempt to cross the Atlantic was completely forgotten.

"The war department is justifiably proud that the perils of another great span of the air have been met and conquered by the courage and daring of officers of the air corps," Secretary Davies said.

President's Cable.

Rapid City, S. D., June 29.—President Coolidge has cabled his congratulations to Lieutenants Lester Maitland and A. F. Hegenberger on the success of their flight to Hawaii.

Wife Overjoyed.

Boston, June 29.—Mrs. Louise Hegenberger, wife of the army flier who with Lieutenant Maitland has arrived in Hawaii from Oakland in an army plane, said to-day that she was "crazy with happiness" over her husband's safe landing.

Unexpected.

Wheeler Field, Hawaii, June 29.—Slipping into Hawaii by the back door Lieutenant Lester Maitland and A. F. Hegenberger in their army Fokker stunned a great crowd awaiting them here by the unexpectedness of their appearance.

A squadron of army planes had been sent out from Wheeler Field at daybreak to spot the lone plane which was nearing the end of its 2,400 mile dash across the Pacific. The escort, however, failed to find the Fokker, which suddenly appeared over the horizon and settled down for a perfect landing at 6.29 o'clock this morning.

Waiting thousands had kept a vigil at the field at night. Various estimates had been made of the probable time of arrival, running all the way from midnight to 8 o'clock in the morning.

"Well, Heggie, old kid, we made it. Gimme a cigarette," were the historic words in which Maitland announced to the world at large that the army had broken all records for ocean flying.

"The old compass is the only thing that works," were Maitland's next words.

Congratulations.

Further conversation was interrupted by the rush of a knot of high army officers and other officials toward the cockpit of the plane. The two fliers climbed out stiffly, and their hands were grasped by Lieutenant Colonel John Howard, department air officer.

"You did it and I congratulate you," said Howard.

Major General Lewis, department commander, seized both officers by their shoulders. With tear-dimmed eyes, the old general said, "My boys, I congratulate you."

Maitland and Hegenberger were then whisked away to the reviewing stand, but before "taking the salute," they had each slipped off their flying overalls and stood revealed in immaculate uniforms.

At the reviewing stand, they received the congratulations of Governor Farrington, Rear Admiral McDonald, and other dignitaries. Pretty Hawaiian girls loaded the aviators with wreaths of beautiful flowers.

Offer of $10,000.

An enterprising newspaper syndicate representative offered Maitland and Hegenberger $10,000 in cash for the exclusive story of their flight, but the two lieutenants said they wouldn't know what to do with all that money.

Somewhat refreshed but still hungry, Maitland and Hegenberger paused long enough before

BALKANS PEACE.

END OF THE ALBANIAN INCIDENT.

Tirana, July 3.
The Albanian Government has released Juraskovitch and the dispute between Albania and Yugo-Slavia is now ended.—
Reuter.

Juraskovitch, an Albanian dragoon employed at the Yugo-Slav Legation at Tirana, was arrested by the Albanian police on a charge of spying, as the result of which the Yugo-Slav representation was withdrawn, and a strong Note was sent to Albania.
The Albanian Government regarded the Note as insulting, and a definite rupture was only averted when the Italian, French and German Ministers and the British Change d'Affaires presented Yugo-Slav with identical Notes demanding that the dispute be settled by the release of Juraskovitch, simultaneously with a modification of the terms of the Yugo-Slav Note to Albania. The conditions have been complied with, and the incident is now at an end.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

JACK DEMPSEY'S BROTHER'S CRIME.

Saratoga Lake, N.Y., July 2.
John Dempsey (38), brother of the ex-heavyweight boxing champion of the world (Jack Dempsey) shot his twenty-one-year-old wife, Edna, dead, and then committed suicide.

Jack Dempsey hurried from his training camp and identified the body, and directed that his brother be buried at his former home, Salt Lake City, and his wife elsewhere.

Edna's landlady told the police that she was standing in the street talking to Edna when the latter's husband appeared, "acting as if he had been drinking."
He went indoors and Edna followed him. Several shots were heard a few minutes later, and the two were found dead.

It appears that the couple separated a year ago and the wife did not want her husband to know where she and their two-year-old son were living.—Reuter's

CHINA SITUATION.

THE WEEK-END NEWS.

Shanghai, July 3.

Further reports have been received from the Nanking Military circles with regard to the anti-Red coup in Wuhan. It is stated that the armies of General Feng Yu-hsiang are advancing rapidly down to Hankow from Honan, the 4th and 11th. Hankow armies having been defeated and retreated to Hanyang. A war over Wuhan between General Feng's army and the Hankow "Reds" is considered inevitable, according to the Nanking report, which also forecasts that Feng will be able to take Hankow very shortly as the troops of the "Red" armies are not willing to fight for the "Reds." General Feng Yu-hsiang has recalled his representative in Hankow, General Lia-Chi, and closed the Hankow office of the Kuomintang.

It is understood that General
Tang Sang-chi is going to abandon Hankow which will be left to the other Red armies to defend.
In view of the threat to Hankow
by General Feng Yu-hsiang's army from Honan, General Tang has withdrawn all his forces from Hupei to Hunan. General Tang himself has also returned to Changsha. The 1st Division of General Tang's army has come down to Yochow from Hankow.
General Tang is also trying to reorganize the Hunan provincial government and Kuomintang Headquarters. It is believed however that General Tang is still under "Red" influence and his withdrawal from Hupei does not mean a split with the Hankow Communists.

Terrific Destruction at Sinkwan.

Nanking, July 3.
More than one hundred Chinese casualties occurred when two junks loaded with explosives lying alongside the Shanghai-Nanking Railway wharf at Sink-wan blew up.

Many people were torn to pieces while others were hurled into the river and drowned. Scores of native boats were wrecked, three steam launches were damaged and roofs were torn off and windows smashed in the buildings in the neighbourhood. When the smoke cleared away, the Yangtze was covered with debris while ashore, among the wreckage, torn off limbs were picked up hundreds of yards from the wharf.

Chiang Kai-shek visited the scene and directed the organization of the relief workers.
The cause of the explosion is unknown, but it was possibly heat, but more probably carelessness on the part of the junk crews.—

OBITUARY.

WIFE OF WELL-KNOWN
AMERICAN RESIDENT.

The deep sympathy of the community will go out to Mr. Herbert
A. Stout of the Simplex Plaster Company, upon the loss of his wife, who died at Matilda Hospital yesterday at the early age of 35 years.

Mrs. Stout came to Hongkong with her husband over two years ago, from Fort Dodge, Iowa, U.S.A., and in that period made many friends. The deceased lady joined the teaching staff of the Diocesan Girls' School and found time for a keen interest in the Helena May Institute. She fell victim to typhoid fever, leaving a little son, aged ten.

The funeral takes place to-day,
passing the Monument at 5 o'clock.
There will be a short service in the chapel at the Protestant Cemetery.

Chinkiang, July 2.
An announcement by an anti-Japanese Boycott Society, states that it is their intention to carry out an inspection of all vessels arriving at the port. Information has been conveyed to the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs that this will not be submitted to, so far as British vessels are concerned. Existing regulations provide that only Customs Officers will be allowed on board. Other Yangtze ports state that there is no change in the situation.—

AUSTRALIA TO NEW ZEALAND.

PLANES AND MEN READY FOR FLIGHT.

Money, according to Colonel White, president of the Victorian section of the Aero Club, is the answer to the proposal for a flight from Australia to New Zealand. There are plenty of machines at Point Cook capable of the flight, and hundreds of pilots are only too eager to make the attempt, says a Melbourne message.

"An experimental flight of this nature," said Colonel White, "would cost a few hundred pounds, but the money is not forthcoming. The Aero Club stands behind such a flight; and we hope in the near future that the attempt will be made."

"In Europe and America great strides are being made in long-distance flights, and we in Australia are not progressing as fast as we might. The American whirlwind engine would be capable of flying to New Zealand and back without landing."

"In forging links between the Dominions, Australia should take pride of place."

COMBATING OF SMALLPOX.

PRECAUTIONS AT POLAR.

Measures which are being taken in Polar to combat the spread of smallpox are the subject of a special report submitted to the Borough Council by their Public Health and Housing Committee. The action so far taken includes the opening of a shelter for the reception of contacts, and the provision of expenses for feeding them; the engagement of two extra men for disinfection work; payment of overtime, and the closing of the cleaning station.

The Medical Officer of Health informed the committee that it was intended to issue posters calling attention to the facilities for vaccination; if necessary to arrange for the opening of an extra vaccination station in North Bow; to order and distribute to all medical practitioners in the borough a pamphlet on the accurate diagnosis of smallpox; the distribution of pamphlets in of the committee, who have expressed their appreciation of the medical schools, &c., and also, possibly, for general distribution. He had not yet had an opportunity of preparing such a pamphlet, but suggested ordering one thousand copies of a small booklet, "Facts you ought to know about Smallpox and Vaccination," as a preliminary step, and submitted circular letters he intended sending to undertakers, barbers, hair-dressers, laundresses, and pawnbrokers. A circular was also being prepared for rag and bone dealers.

The committee were also informed that the medical officer had given consideration to the question whether he should recommend chickenpox to be notifiable, but at the present time he did not recommend any such action. In case of emergency chickenpox could be made notifiable within a fortnight, and if and when such an occasion arose it would be necessary to engage temporary assistance to visit cases notified, which it was impossible to do with the present staff. These arrangements have been approved by the members of the committee, who have expressed their appreciation of the medical officer's prompt action.

THE NEW PHASE IN CHINA.

The advance on Hankow by the forces of General Feng Yu-hsiang marks definitely a new phase in the China situation. There was considerable doubt at one time whether the "Reds" in the Wahan area would not decide that discretion was the better part of valour, and come to an arrangement with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, whereby they could shed some of their political hue and take part in the venture against Peking. By some such agreement, they might have retained the chance of taking part in subsequent affairs, and the policy would perhaps have been a wiser one on the basis of the half a loaf better than no bread argument. One suspects that certain Hankow leaders have desired that form of settlement, but that Marshal Chiang, aware of the hollowness of Soviet promises and the treachery likely to come from Soviet dupes, has followed the line of ridding his party entirely of its Russian element, before proceeding to business. The definite alliance with Feng, the breakdown of the negotiations with Marshal Chang Tso-lin, and the imminent fall of Wuhan to Chiang's allies, mark the new phase, and, shortly, more defined forecasts of events should be possible.

It is evident that after Hankow and the associated cities have been cleared of their Bolshevik element, there will be a practically united South and Central China, purged of foreign intriguers—representatives of China's "oleaginous neighbour," to use Nanking's recent descriptive term—and, with the powerful Shansi tuchun maintaining a friendly neutrality in favour of the Nationalists, the capture of Peking, Tientsin, and Tsingtau becomes the more likely. Conditions in Shantung are such, indeed, and the organisation which Chiang has behind him is so thorough—as things go in China nowadays—that there seems nothing to stop him realising his original ambition at a comparatively early date. The defections of commanders and their armies, the intrigues of rivals, and the discontent of large bodies of troops, as against a shrewd concentration of strength which entitles Chiang to be listed among the great men of China; and a genuine spirit of unity among his soldiers, probably the first troops with an ideal who have been seen in the country for a good many years; have led to the present situation, where the invaders from the south are verily battering at the gates of the capital. The fall of Peking, should that be accomplished, the retirement of the newly-created Dictator to his realms in Manchuria, and the practically complete conquest of China south of the Great Wall by the Chekiang commander, will mark the end of the next phase in the great campaign nursed several years ago by a few minds down in Canton, and fostered with a nucleus of Whampoa Military Academy cadets. To give Chiang his due, he has been a great task, he has surmounted formidable obstacles, and a magnificent achievement is nearly his. One speaks of the next phase as completing the original programme: but knowing China as one does, looking back into the history of Chinese military campaigns since the Revolution, and always bearing in mind the personal equation, one may be permitted to query whether it will be the last.

The Latest Flight.

For the third time within a few weeks, the Atlantic has been flown from America to France, the latest successful flight, having been accomplished by Commander Byrd, of the U.S. Navy. As was told in the telegrams which came to hand on Friday and Saturday, he made a very successful flight all across the Atlantic, but had the misfortune to find heavy fog over France, so that he lost his way and had to make a rather perilous and forced descent near a lighthouse on the coast at Ver-sur-Mer. Otherwise, the flight ranks as a very fine achievement, worthy of comparison with those of Lindbergh and Chamberlain. Commander Byrd has asserted that he made the flight in the interests of science and that he was taking many observations and chronicling much data on the way over. It is noteworthy that he was in wireless touch with land and ships all the way across and that he constantly reported his position. There was thus a much reduced risk of his sharing the fate of the pioneer Nungesser—a man who started out and was heard of no more, swallowed up in the silence of great ocean spaces. Ships at sea are no longer out of touch with land, thanks to wireless, and it has been demonstrated that an aeroplane, big enough to cross the Atlantic safely and to carry the all-important wireless equipment, is a practical proposition. We are obviously on the eve of much greater developments as regards aviation than were thought possible a few years ago, and all these trial flights across the great oceans of the world are but the prelude to what will assuredly become regular services. And man is not content with flying the three thousand odd miles between New York and Paris, and is already casting eyes upon the wide Pacific as his next solitary waste to conquer. With Hawaii as a half-way halting place, we shall yet see a California to China flight, and, maybe Hongkong is destined to become the terminus of a truly Trans-Pacific aerial service.

TRAVELLERS' GAZETTE.

"MESSRS. THOMAS COOK'S PUBLICATION.

Messrs. Thos. Cook and Son, Ltd. have sent us a copy of the new edition of their "Far Eastern Travellers' Gazette." We notice several improvements. Their list of offices have been better spaced and now occupy two pages which makes it easier to refer to them. The editorial notes have been enlarged and deal with points of interest to intending travellers. The pages headed "Arrangements for Travellers" show the usefulness and extent of their organisation. The object of the "Gazette" is to furnish intending travellers with a general idea of the present arrangements of the different steamship and railway companies and a glance through the information given shows that this has been efficiently carried out. The steamship and railway information is classified under sections each clearly headed—a great assistance to the layman. The detailed information is very complete and anyone contemplating a journey of any description should not fail to ask for a copy of the "Gazette." A further addition is a two-page skeleton map of the Far East. To those going to Europe, the United States or Canada, the "Where to Stay" section is invaluable, covering as it does not only the British Isles, but also Switzerland, Holland, Germany, Italy, Spain and Portugal, Scandinavia, and not least Canada and the United States.

THE GREATEST MEDICINE IS A TRUE FRIEND.—Sir W. Temple.

The P. and O. s.s. Nyanya is due here from Singapore on Thursday.

The P. and O. s.s. Kashgar is due to arrive here from Singapore with the English mail on Wednesday evening.

The s.s. Empress of Canada left Vancouver for the East on Thursday last, and is due here on July 18th.

There was only one case of notifiable disease reported over the week-end, this being a British case of typhoid fever.

Dr. Guy Potter Benton, former president of the University of the Philippines, died at Minneapolis on June 28 of sleeping sickness.

For stealing some lead wiring from H.M.S. Foxglove, which is at the moment in the Talkoo Docks, a Chinese was fined $10 or fourteen days' hard labour.

A Chinese lad died at the Government Civil Hospital on Saturday having been knocked down by P. W. D. lorry No. 1230 on Saturday night. The deceased was only sixteen years of age and he received very severe injuries to his head and legs. It is believed the lorry went over his legs.

Dr. Rafael Perez, first lieutenant in the public health service of the Philippines, was arrested last Wednesday on a charge of bribery. Dr. Perez is alleged to have accepted Pesos 200 to keep hidden the fact that he considered Wing Kuo, Chinese, proprietor of the Plaza Cafe, Plaza Santa Cruz, a leprosy suspect.

As a result of the heavy rains of the last few days a landslide occurred on the Repulse Bay Road between the Wong Nei Chong Gap Police Station and the Main Island Road. The landslide at the present moment completely blocks the road but it is hoped to clear away sufficient of the rock and earth which has fallen to enable cars to make use of the road again by to-morrow.

Regarding the s.s. Pak Hoi, the Hongkong-Wuchow boat, which went aground near the mouth of the Samsui River, the vernacular press states that for weeks fruitless efforts were made to refloat the vessel, which is now completely silted over with sand, and it is believed that the shipping company, having spent some $20,000 in attempted salvage, will suffer a considerable loss.

To correspondents.—We have received two letters from servicemen, criticising a letter written by "British Boy," which appeared in yesterday's Sunday Herald complaining against the price of cigarettes charged at the Y.M.C.A. In accordance with newspaper etiquette, we are not publishing these letters but have forwarded them to the journal in which the original letter appeared.—Ed. H.K.T.

The Radio Corporation of the Philippines officially inaugurated the new trans-Pacific circuit, connecting San Francisco and Manila, at 8 a.m. last Monday. The first message received by the Radio Corporation of the Philippines over the new circuit, contained words of greetings from General James G. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America and also of the Radio Corporation of the Philippines.

Mr. C. Boden Kloss, Director of Museums S.S. and P.M.S., is leaving for British North Borneo to make investigations in the zoology, botany and ethnology of the State. He is accompanied by Mr. H. M. Pendlebury of the Selangor Museum, Mr. F. N. Chasen of the Raffles Museum, Singapore, and a party of native collectors. The results of the visit, which will last about three months, will be divided between the Museums and gardens of the Straits Settlements and the Federated Malay States.

That she might conceivably have taken it in error, for the same drawer contained a quantity of chocolate, was the suggestion put forward in the Second Police Court at Singapore when a Japanese woman pleaded guilty to attempting to commit suicide by taking rat poison. The officer prosecuting intimated that there was evidence that the lady had imbibed $6 worth of whisky before taking the poison, and it was therefore just possible she mistook rat poison for chocolate. She was found to be suffering from a long-standing heart complaint. His Worship expressed surprise that a person suffering from heart trouble could drink so much whisky. She was sentenced to a week's simple imprisonment.

COURT PUZZLE.

RICKSHA COOLIE'S NOVEL
EXPLANATION.

Considerable surprise was caused in Major Willson's court this morning, when a ricksha coolie named Wong Kam was summoned for pulling a ricksha without a licence, at 7.30 last evening. When the man's name was called, a Chinese answered, but both Sub-Inspector Cotton and the Indian constable, prosecuting, declared this man was not the defendant.

The man said that he was Wong Kam, that he was pulling ricksha No. 698, and that he was arrested at half-past seven yesterday evening.

Sub-Inspector Cotton said he was not the man charged last night, and the constable said the man he arrested had a scar on his cheek.

On this being explained to the man his face became wreathed in smiles, and he explained that when he was arrested his face was dirty but added that he must look different now he had washed. Sub-Inspector Cotton said he was probably answering for the actual defendant, and his Worship decided the matter by imposing a fine of $3.

TRICKSTERS ACTIVE.

CHINESE WOMAN
VICTIMISED.

How a too trustful Chinese woman was victimised by confident tricksters is revealed in a report made to the Police.

It appears that the woman was walking along Queen's Road Central yesterday afternoon when she was approached by two men who asked her to direct them to a place where they could change some money. Although she gave them clear directions they appeared not to be able to understand, and the upshot was that they asked her to take some paper money and change it for them.

In compliance with their request the woman handed over jewellery and money worth $51.80, as security until she should return with the change, after which she set off to a money changer's shop with a roll of paper.

The roll, however, was found to contain nothing but ordinary paper, and when she returned to the spot where she had parted with her valuables, it was found that the two men were missing.

KOWLOON CITY STRUGGLE.

PLUCKY FIGHT WITH ARMED ROBBERS.

An attempted robbery at Kowloon City yesterday, in which a son of a Chinese shop keeper was wounded with a dagger during a struggle, was frustrated and the four men concerned made good their escape before they could be caught.

Under the pretence of wanting cigarettes a man entered the shop of Lo Man, Sha Ti Yuen, Kowloon City, and the son of the owner, who was serving, turned round to get some. He was suddenly seized from behind, but he promptly secured his police whistle and blew it.

Three other men, who had apparently been waiting outside, then rushed into the shop and a violent struggle ensued. Efforts to stifle the son's shouts proved fruitless, so one of the men produced a dagger and attempted to stab him. Although he was wounded on the right breast and in the left wrist, the son continued his plucky struggle and succeeded in sounding another blast on his whistle.

The attackers then ran away in the direction of Shatin Gap.

GANG OF THIEVES.

TWO MEN SENTENCED.

For stealing a cotton quilt, a woman's overcoat and $215 from different addresses, a Chinese was sentenced to six months' hard labour by Mr. R. E. Lindsell today. The defendant had only recently been released from prison and Mr. Lindsell, in passing sentence, remarked that the defendant seemed to make his living by stealing from house to house.

Another Chinese was sentenced to four weeks' hard labour for receiving some of the goods stolen by the previous defendant. The police stated in their prosecution that these Chinese seem to work in gangs and that while some concentrate on stealing, others make arrangements for the disposal of the articles. The defendant who was charged with receiving was actually arrested in a pawnshop.

The Very Idea!

"Are you the girl to whom I gave my order for tea?"
"Yes, sir."
"Bless me, what a fine young woman you've grown into!"

Mrs. Felicitas Fischer, after a fight lasting nearly a year, has just taken up her place on a Vienna cab-rank as the first woman taxicab driver in Austria.

The police refused to give her a licence when she first applied, some ten months ago, and organised taxicab men said that on no account would she be allowed to take out a cab. Mrs. Fischer, undeterred by police hostility and professional jealousy, applied to the High Court for an order directing the police to grant her a licence. She was granted the order despite the legal opposition of the taxicab-men, and the licence has been duly issued by the police.

Mark Twain said of India that it was the only country in the world where he had seen men trying to break a stone with a shirt. This humorous description of the drastic methods of the native laundryman, or "dhoobi," still holds good, and linen is still pounded to shreds in the waters of Indian rivers.

It was no uncommon thing in the days before the war for people to lay in a good stock and send their linen to be laundered at home. It paid in the long run. In the more meagre days now, the practice is hardly possible, and the dhoobi frays cuffs and collars to his heart's content.

Yet, according to the Pioneer Mail, the dhoobi has his uses. "In time of trouble," the paper says, "he is a Little Friend of all the World. What if he lends your flannel trousers to the clerk who is going to a wedding? Should you yourself be in sudden need for the fancy dress dance—consult the dhoobi, he will fit you out quickly and cheaply. Should you lack a waistcoat for that dinner at Government House, the dhoobi again will find you one—probably the Governor's own."

But a Nemesis is hinted at. "The new air mail will soon be able to take a shirt home and bring it back within the fortnight." And then the banks of the Ganges and the Brahmaputra will know the dhoobi no more.

Woman at Bow County Court: If my husband has told a fairy tale it was for my sake—and I suppose he thinks I'm worth it.

A debtor offered at Bow County Court to pay up quickly if any one would find his wife work.

Barrister, to a woman at Bow: Just before stepping into the road you said good-bye to a friend?—The woman: No—my husband.

Nottinghamshire wife: I went to the "Bull" for my husband's beer and brandy. Another woman: To say nothing of your own "drops."

Charlady: She wanted me to "ave a finger in the pie, but I smelt a rat an' nipped it in the bud.

Cook: Lor, 'Mrs. Jones, 'owu you do mix your semaphores.

I know men. There is nothing about them I am not cognisant of, nor any type that I have not come in contact with, contact of the most intimate sort; but for the man of society I have a closer understanding, he is more dependent on me.

I know men. I am aware of their every mood. To me they show their true selves and unmask their inmost emotions. I make them sad, angry and pleased; but no matter how they treat me—even when they fling me from them with a curse—in the end they grovel on their knees, for they must have me. I am essential.

I am a collar stud. Dick (looking up from his newspaper): I say, Jim, what is the Order of the Bath?

Jim: Well, as I have experienced it, it's first the water's too hot; then it's too cold; then you're short of a towel; then you step on the soap, and, finally, the telephone bell rings.

Mandy: "And if you gets this divorce, you gonna marry again?" Lou: "No! I guess Ise gonna withdraw from circulation!"

There will be a farewell to the Bishop of Singapore and Mrs. Ferguson-Davis, M.D., O.B.E., at the Victoria Memorial Hall there on Wednesday, July 13, to which the public have been invited. The Hon. Mr. E. C. H. Wolff will take the chair. Various presentations will be made at this meeting, including those to Mrs. Ferguson-Davis, from the C.W.A., the Women Workers, and the Mothers Union. The Church Workers Association are responsible for refreshments.

LEGAL ARGUMENT.

LEUNG KWONG INQUEST CONTINUES.

Legal argument as to whether the finding of the Marine Court of Enquiry could be admitted as evidence at the Coroner's inquest was heard at the Central Magistracy this morning, before Mr. R. E. Lindsell, when the inquest on the bodies of victims of the s.s. Leung Kwong disaster was continued.

Mr. T. G. Bennett is appearing for the owners, coxswain and crew of the Moonshine, with which the Leung Kwong came into collision. Mr. G. K. Hall Brutton is for Captain Wilson of the Leung Kwong and Mrs. Martin, widow of Mr. F. E. A. Martin, who was drowned, and Mr. G. S. Hugh Jones is for the owners of the Leung Kwong.

Mr. Lindsell said this morning, he understood that Mr. Bennett contended that the finding could go in as evidence, while Mr. Hugh Jones argued the other way. As he was inclined to be in favour of Mr. Bennett, he would hear Mr. Hugh Jones first.

Mr. Hugh Jones contended that the finding could not be put in as far as it concerned the Leung Kwong, and it was held that it could not go in for that reason, then it could not go at all.

He referred to the difference in the objects between a Marine Court of Enquiry and a Coroner's inquest, and added that the finding did not refer to the navigation of the Leung Kwong, and although the finding might have influenced public opinion, it could not be taken as evidence against the Leung Kwong.

He said he had been unable to find exactly similar cases in the authorities, but he quoted cases which bore on the subject.

Mr. Lindsell said he would direct the jury on that point that the finding would not be evidence against the Leung Kwong, and both solicitors said they would be satisfied with that.

Mr. H. K. Holmes, who appeared for the Crown to assist Mr. Lindsell on any point which might arise, pointed out that the evidence did not show that the coxswain of the Leung Kwong was to blame, and as there were only two parties the finding of the Marine Court of Enquiry was bound to influence the jury, because there was an implication that if one coxswain was faultless the other was bound to be at fault. He quoted authorities on the subject.

Further argument followed and Mr. Lindsell decided in favour of Mr. Hugh Jones, that the finding should not go in.

The case is proceeding.

INTERPORT CRICKETER DEAD.

A WELL-KNOWN SHANGHAI RESIDENT.

It is with deep regret that we have to announce, (says Wednesday's N. C. Daily News), the death of Mr. R. C. Farbridge, who passed away at 4.30 p.m. yesterday in the General Hospital after a short illness.

At the time of his death Mr. Farbridge was 57 years old and for the past 29 or 30 years has been a resident of Shanghai. He originally came out to Shanghai for the firm of Messrs. Holliday, Wise & Co., a well-known Manchester firm (now Holliday & Co., Ltd.) with whom he remained for three years. After leaving that firm he became a broker, the occupation which he has followed since until the time of his death, being connected as a partner in the firm of Messrs. Farbridge and Reynell, bill and bullion brokers.

Until about a week before his death he was able to be around, having seemingly recovered from an illness of months ago. Mr. Farbridge was always a keen sportsman, being in former days a first-class cricketer. He played in several interport matches and at one time captained Shanghai's interport team. He was also well known on the turf, having owned several horses with excellent records, chief amongst them Endymion.

POLICE PROTECTION AT WEDDING.

ROD LA ROQUE AND VILMA BANKY MENACED.

Beverly Hills, California, June 26.—A riot call was turned in to day at the marriage of Rod La Roque and Vilma Banky, film stars, and nearly one hundred policemen dashed in patrol wagons to the "location" to restrain the crowd which threatened to wreck the building.

Cecil B. De Mille, "dean of motion picture directors," was La Roque's best man.

Sam Goldwyn, well known producer, gave the bride away. Cameras cranked merrily throughout the ceremony. The bride and the bridegroom will leave soon for a honeymoon in Western Canada, in several reels.

MOVIE SALARY CUTS.

ACTORS ASKED TO OPPOSE.

Hollywood, June 26.—The Motion Picture Branch of the Actors' Equity Association has requested all film writers, actors and directors who have contracts with moving picture companies to refuse to agree to the arbitrary ten per cent. cut in salaries recently imposed by most of the leading companies here, until the Equity Association can investigate.

The Equity Association, however, contains only a small part of the motion picture industry.

POSSESSION OF A DAGGER.

CHINESE WHO COULDN'T SLEEP.

During the past few weeks many Chinese have been brought up in the District Court on charges of being in possession of weapons without licences, says a Singapore paper.

The other day a Chinese appeared in the District Court before Mr. N. D. Mudie, charged with being in possession of a dagger.

Chief Court Inspector Meredith, who prosecuted, said that the accused was arrested in Beach Lane at about 5 a.m. on June 20, by plain clothes policemen who had followed him from Beach Road and had found the dagger open, in his pocket.

Accused said he bought the weapon in a shop in North Bridge Road, and that it was entirely their fault that he had not got a licence, because they had not told him that he would need one. Early on the 19th he could not sleep and went out for a walk and was arrested.

The Magistrate asked the Court Inspector if the shops really did sell such weapons.

Mr. Meredith: Yes, your Honour, all the shops do, even John Little's and Robinson's sell them to sportsmen for hunting. But the accused was certainly not going hunting at 5 a.m. on the day in question.

His Honour passed sentence of six months' rigorous imprisonment.

THAMES ON FIRE.

WEDDING EVE SOCIETY ESCAPADE.

How the bachelor friends of Lord Kylsant's son-in-law recently set the Thames afire on the latter's wedding eve is being much discussed at Henley.

Thirty arrived in motor cars at the famous Phyllis Court Club, where the bridegroom-elect was giving a party that evening, and ordered 20 gallons of petrol in buckets from a nearby garage.

After placarding the walls with "No motor spirit from plundered Russian oilfields," they started in the direction of the river, where they threw the petrol about and set it on fire.

The flames spread alarmingly, and scorched the roses from the Cromwellian wall, and also the lawn and chestnut trees. The wall, which was considerably damaged, is of great historic value, having been built by Cromwell's Ironsides to protect the Court from the Royalists.

Four prominent Welsh business men, who were among many persons who received bogus invitations to the wedding, hurried to the reception, and found that the detectives guarding the presents had been warned by telegram to beware of four suspicious characters from Cardiff.

Lord Kylsant is determined that the perpetrators shall be found and punished.

A SEX WAR?

SURPLUS WOMEN MAY "EXPLODE."

Gilbert Frankau, the well-known novelist, in an article in the London Evening News entitled "The Maidens' Over," predicts a sex war as the result of the present monogamous system, when there are two million more females than males in England.

"An unmarried woman's nature," he writes, "is like a steam roller. If it is sufficiently compressed it will explode. Britain's surplus women have not yet exploded, but there is a rattling of the safety-valve which is proved by their energy, health, sheer vitality, and physique displayed on the tennis court and stage and in the office, kitchen, and mill."

"If the siller on the safety-valve is that most ghastly of modern phenomena, the lackadaisical, lacklustre, Oxford-trousered, Socialism-sporting, mealy-mouthed, ukulele-strumming modern boy, the end of the sex war can be accurately prognosticated. It will have to bow to the wishes of two millions of modern girls, nearly all craving, consciously and sub-consciously, the job of matchbox for which nature has mainly equipped them, unless the surplus maidens prefer to refuse duogamy with the modern boy."

The 1901 census showed 15,728,618 males, and 16,799,230 females in England and Wales—a surplus of 1,070,619. The figures in 1911 were 17,445,608, and 18,624,884—a surplus of 1,179,276—and in 1921, 18,082,220 and 19,803,922—a surplus of 1,720,802.

THE WILBUR PLAYERS.

A NEW SEASON OPENED.

The Wilbur Players have returned to Hongkong from Manila and on Sunday night opened their second season here at the Star Theatre. They come not only with an excellent reputation but with a repertoire of new plays which will undoubtedly prove very popular with local audiences.

Last night they presented "Alias the Deacon," a delightful comedy with an acceptable melodramatic flavour. The story concerns an expert card sharper's entry into a quiet town in the guise of a benevolent looking clergyman. In the hotel he chooses as his headquarters he becomes immersed in a town scandal and by means of his ambidexterity provides a satisfactory solution of the outstanding problems and passes on to exercise his gifts elsewhere.

The feminine interest is not lacking of course and a little more melodrama is added by a typical Bowers tough saving a man from a long prison sentence.

Mr. Anthony Baker is seen in the role of the deacon and once again he shows his ability to play almost any character perfectly. Here, he probably gives us his best characterisation to date. Mr. Earle Hodgkins gives a perfect interpretation of a Bowers tough and Mr. Kneeland Parker plays the part of a young American with vigour. Miss Florence Pringle is excellent as Phyllis Halliday while Miss Florence Underhill and Miss Moss Linden have roles to which they are entirely suited.

"Alias the Deacon" will be played again to-night. It can be recommended as an excellent comedy-drama of high entertainment value.

OLD TIME PARIS.

FEATURES OF "THE BELOVED ROGUE."

Paris before the revolution, with her beautiful women and gallant courtiers, is featured in "The Beloved Rogue" which was screened at the Queen's Theatre last evening, and will be on view both to-day and to-morrow.

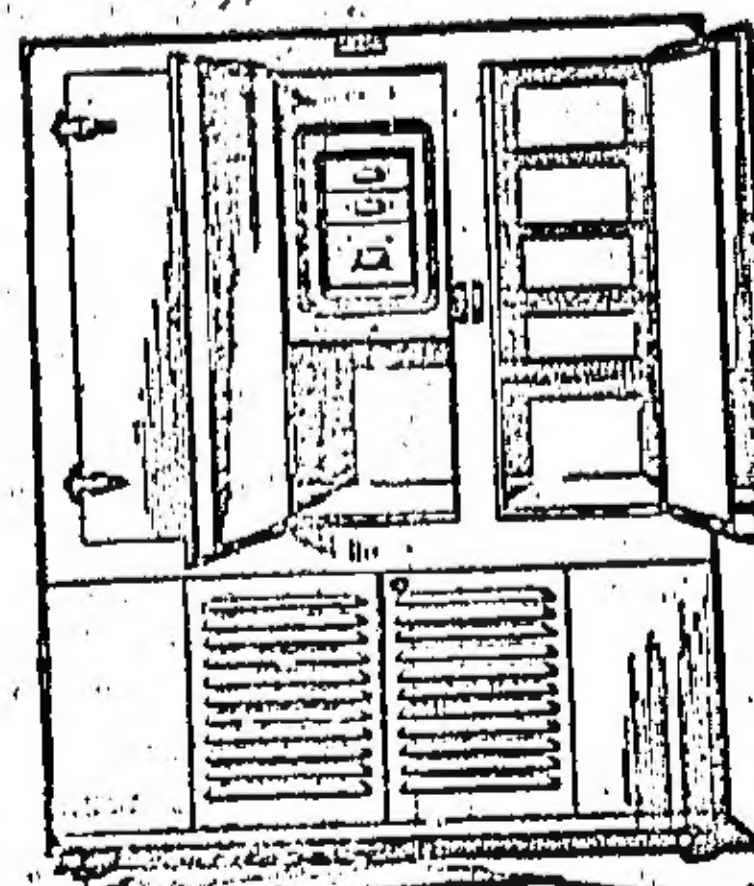

The "United Artists" are responsible for the production which provides plenty of life and interest which can be enjoyed by the cinema fan. The "United Artists" is a company formed by a number of movie actors who desire to act parts which are most suitable to their individual abilities, and in "The Beloved Rogue" this idea is put into effect.

The most difficult part, that of Louis XI, is taken by Conrad Veidt, who would have been a bigger success with a less exacting part, while John Barrymore takes the title part of Villon.

The film is well worth a visit, the story being more than usually interesting, and told in a graphic manner. The reconstruction of old Paris is one of the features of the film, and one also obtains a glimpse of a torture chamber where a little otherwise than gentle persuasion was often tried in the old days.

John Barrymore is supported by Marceline Day, who, although she has not yet reached stardom, makes a very pretty and appealing heroine. Others in the cast are Lawson Dutt, Henry Victor, Slim Summerville, Mack Swain, Angelo Rossito, the dwarf, Nigel de Brulier, Lucy Beaumont, Otto Matlesen, Jane Winton, Rose Dione, Bertram Grassby and Dick Sutherland.

DAY BY DAY.

H. M. S. Bruce sails for the north to-morrow to relieve H. M. S. Kelp.

Saturday's report of the Medical Officer of Health contained two Chinese cases of enteric fever.

The rainfall at the Botanical Gardens during June was 13.30 inches. There were 22 wet days, the heaviest fall being 3.85 inches on June 30.

Owing to the unsettled state of the weather, the Promenade Concert advertised to take place at Lee Gardens on Saturday night was postponed.

This morning's Harbour Office Reports gave 11 arrivals and nine departures of which five and four respectively were British, leaving 75 vessels in harbour, British 31.

The local weather forecast for the twenty-four hours ending at noon to-morrow, issued by the Royal Observatory, is: S.E. winds, moderate; fair to showery.

Convicted of stowing away from Singapore on board the s.s. Kai Sang, an unemployed Chinese was sentenced to one month's hard labour by Mr. W. Schofield at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning.

C. MacMahon, a stoker of H.M.S. Delfi, was charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning with disorderly conduct and doing malicious damage to a vehicle of the China Motor Bus Company. It appears that defendant struck at a bus driver with a stick late last night, and succeeded in doing damage to the bus. He also hit a ricksha coolie on the back with a stone. Defendant pleaded no recollection of the incidents, but was convicted and fined $5 on each of the two charges, being also ordered to pay $3 compensation to the bus company and $1 to the ricksha coolie.

UNDUE OPTIMISM.

Your otherwise cautious man of affairs allows himself a latitude in respect of his health that he would not dream of applying to his business. He is prone to lock the stable door after the horse is stolen—to neglect his health, without which he can hope to accomplish nothing—until completely incapacitated for work.

The first symptoms of ill-health bespeak prompt measures. A tonic is indicated to build up the system, to fortify it against the encroachments of disease. The tonic best suited to the purpose is one that operates by stimulating the natural functions. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are such a tonic. They restore natural vigour by reinforcing the normal functions of the human system. They are the prescription of an experienced and qualified practitioner. Their health and strength restorative value is not confined to men only, but women of all ages, troubled with the ailments of their sex, find in them prompt and permanent relief.

Of all chemists, or post free, $1.50 per bottle, 6 bottles $8.00, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60, Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

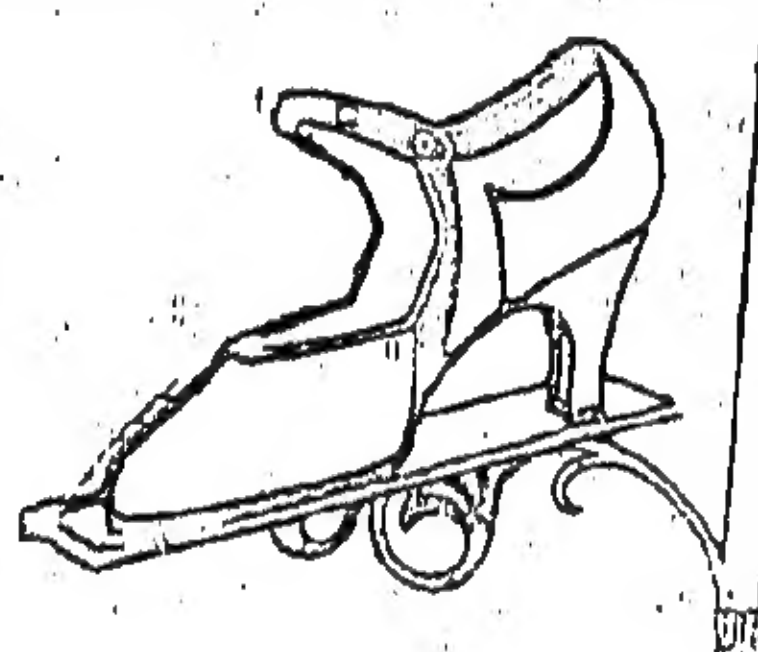

Nine shots fired amid crowds of promenaders in Mirabell Park, Salzburg, caused a panic rush for the gates just before sunset recently. Josef-Tomsche, of Vienna, had fired at his wife, Annie, aged twenty, who had been living apart from him, and at a man Andorfer, who accompanied her. With the ninth shot Tomsche killed himself. Five shots hit his wife, who is fatally injured. Andorfer, shot through the abdomen, is not likely to recover. He was a partner in a motor-car firm in Salzburg till recently, and gave the girl wife an excellent position in the firm's office.

LOCAL BASEBALL.

TIGERS AGAIN SUFFER HEAVY DEFEAT.

The continuance of the rain on Saturday morning after the heavy downpour of the previous night prevented any play between the Filipino Club and the Japanese on Saturday afternoon.

Yesterday however, the ground was fit for play and the scheduled game between the Tigers (South China) and the Hongkong Baseball Club took place according to fixture.

Following on their recent heavy defeat at the hands of the Japanese, the Tigers were again overwhelmed by the Americans, yesterday suffering defeat to the tune of 25 runs to four.

The Tigers were a beaten team from the very start being blanked out in five successive innings. In reply to the first the Americans amassed seven runs scored through Murray, Cockey, Bowker, McArdle, Lammert, Russakoff and Mahon. In the second innings McArdle scored the only run for the Americans who were themselves blanked out in the third.

In the second half of the game, the visitors had matters practically their own way although the Chinese scored four runs including a home run on error by L. T. Tong. The Americans scored four in the fourth innings, Long, Mahon, Greid and Murray crossing the plate.

Bowker, after making their first run in the fifth innings made a home run in the next attempt and brought three men home. He hit a fly to left field, and came home through S. L. Lee misfielding the ball. Eight runs in all were scored through Bowker (2), McArdle, Russakoff, Mahon, Greid, Murray, and Muelco.

In the sixth, the Chinese scored through S. L. Lee and K. C. Wong who were brought home by a two bagger by Sling to centre. In reaching third on error on a hit to right field L. T. Tong brought home Sling and crossed the plate himself through Murray at third base missing the ball.

The runs scored in each innings were:

AN AVERAGE OF ENGLISHMEN.

IAN HAY AND "SUPERB TYPES."

The first thing that really mattered in a British school was good order and discipline, said Major Ian Hay Boith (Ian Hay), at the City of London School, where he distributed the Beaufort and Mortimer prizes to the boys. Mr. Cecil F. J. Jennings, chairman of the City Schools Council, presided, supported by other members, and by the headmaster, Dr. A. Chilton, and Mr. J. R. Pakeman, past Chief Commoner.

All the theories in the world, continued Major Boith, were useless if one could not inculcate in the British boy a certain pride in being kept in order, and later on in keeping himself in order, and later still in keeping other people in order. (Laughter and "Hear, hear.")

Those were the progressive stages through which the manhood of the country had to pass. Discipline bred responsibility, responsibility bred character, and if in a nation like ours, which was responsible, directly or indirectly, for order and good government of nearly one-quarter of the earth's surface, men were still able, even in these modern days of upheaval, to maintain those traditions with efficiency and credit, he thought they would admit that our British educational system, whatever the outside criticism of it might be, seemed to suit the people that it was intended for. (Hear, hear.) It produced, above all, a superb average type.

HERESY HUNTS OVER.

DEAN INGE AND OLD CATCHWORDS.

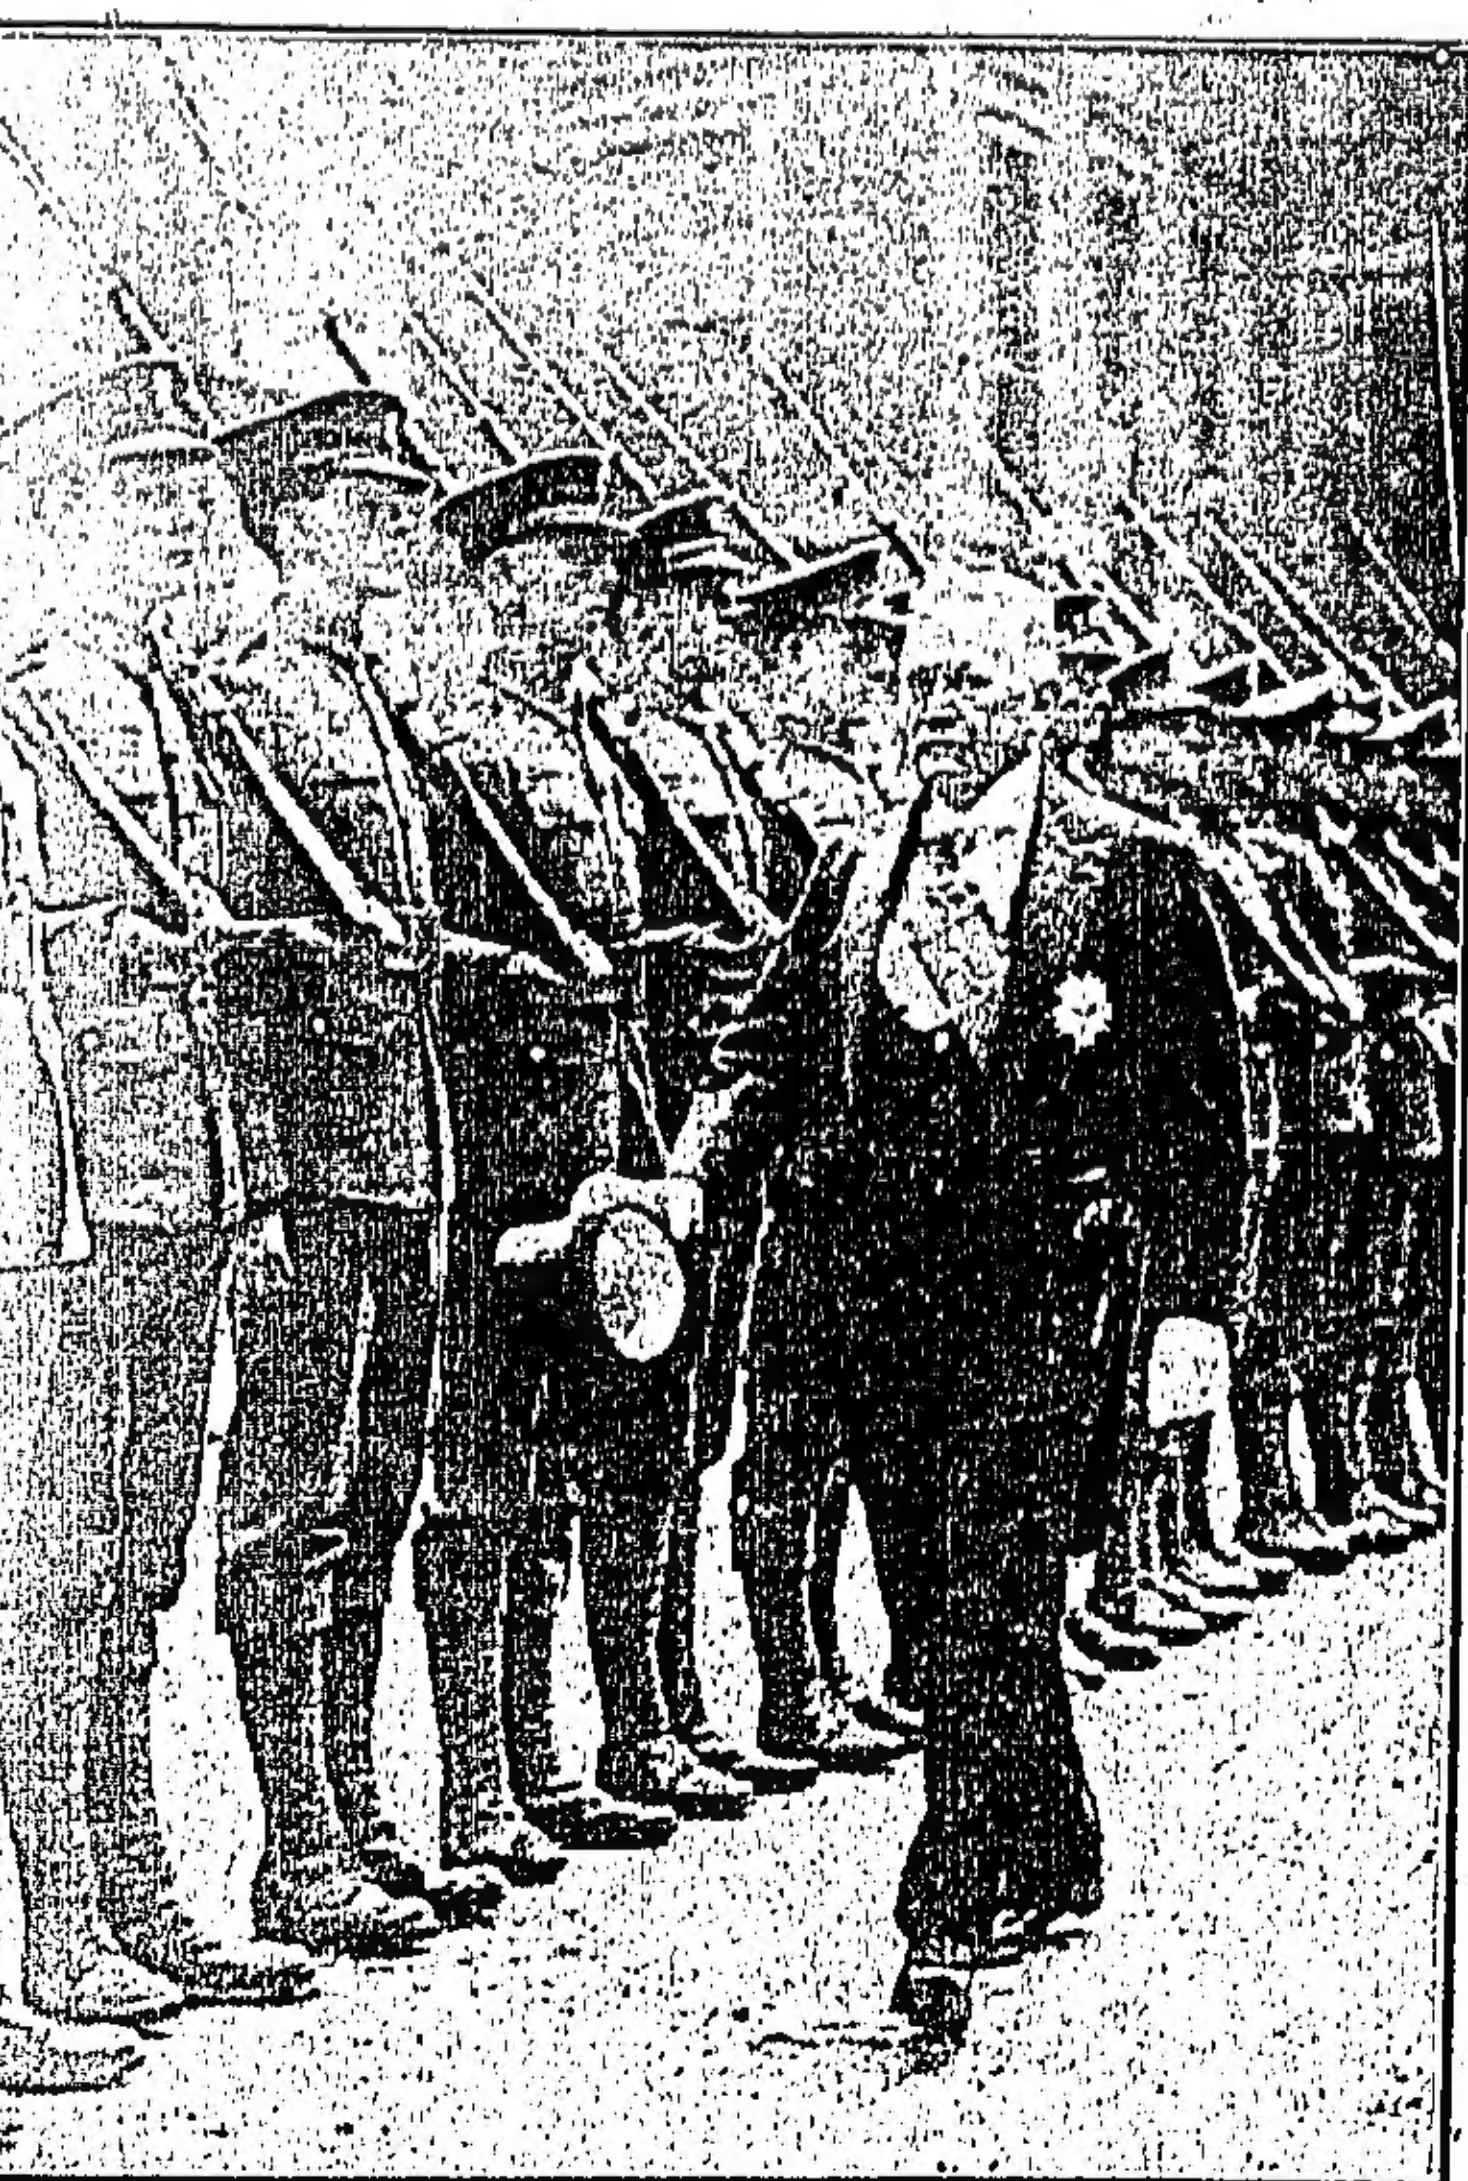

"So far as we can see, the age of heresy hunts is over," said Dean Inge, in opening the public meeting of the Churchwardens' Union, of which he is president, at Caxton Hall, Westminster. The two external watchwords of the "Church" and "Bible" became fighting cries at the time of the Reformation. The authority of both the Church and the Bible was emphasised in the face of history and environment, and for a time the internal factors in both were driven into the background.

A very promising movement of religious humanism that nowhere took a more attractive aspect than in England was thrown back by the fierce struggles between the Roman Catholics and the Protestants, and he thought they must recognise that in some ways the Reformation—necessary as it was—was a reactionary movement.

The Church was driven back upon a period of fierce struggles, and the chasm between secular and sacred knowledge was widened. "It is that chasm that Liberal Churchmen wish to fill, and at the present time there is no longer any reason why we should tie ourselves to those old catchwords of the 'infallible Church' and the 'infallible Bible.' It is quite possible for us to move forward more freely. We are constantly being told how the Catholic movement has progressed in the Church of England and of the triumphs it has won; but the victories of this party are nothing to be compared with those which have been won by Liberal thought at the same time."

FRENCH PRESIDENT'S VISIT TO LONDON.

PLEASANT BURGLARS.

SPECIAL TREASURES RETURNED.

Two debonair burglars who tampered their crime with the gay courtesy of a Raffles have set all New York ringing with wonder at the audacity of their enterprise.

Wall-street especially is consumed with curiosity regarding the motives of their burglary, for their victim is Mr. Jesse Livermore, the most celebrated of stock speculators, who sprang into fame as "the boy plunger" in the panic of 1907, and since then has been the hero of a series of sensational Stock Exchange campaigns.

As a financial gambler he is a mysterious figure in Wall-street. Inasmuch as the burglars chivalrously tossed back to Mr. Livermore, his wife and their guests more than £20,000 worth of jewels, but insisted on searching his private safe for financial data and documents, suspicion is natural that cash and jewels were not the main object of their adventure.

"Be Nice, Please."

Mr. Livermore and his wife, with two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Aronson, were at their country estate situated on the shores of Long Island Sound when, a little after 4 p.m., Mrs. Aronson, hearing a scraping sound outside her window, sat up. She saw the ends of a ladder seen-sawing along the balcony rail.

A man's head appeared. An intruder sprang into the room.

Another followed him. Both had electric handlamps and large revolvers.

"Now, hush, please!" said a well-modulated voice as Mrs. Aronson started to cry. "Be nice, please!" the voice continued, "and you won't get hurt."

The burglars turned on the light. They were dressed immaculately, and instead of villainous scowls they wore subdued and humorous smiles as they searched the dressing-table and lumbered through Mr. Aronson's pockets before again approaching the bed.

Watch Tossed Back.

"Better give us that ring," one of them said, pointing to a sapphire and diamond ring worth $5,500, visible above the sheet which Mrs. Aronson was clutching.

She gave it to him. He then grasped Mr. Aronson's wrist and took a platinum watch set with diamonds, but a moment later tossed it back, saying: "Oh, well, madam, don't cry. Harry can have his watch."

Addressing the couple in the most polite manner, the burglar then said: "We have another call to make in this house, and if you're good we won't come back."

They cut the telephone wire, locked the door, and disappeared by the window. A few minutes later they entered the bedroom of the Livermores. They took a $1,000 ring from Mrs. Livermore's hand, but bowed low and returned it when she cried. They also, at her request, returned a ring taken from her husband's hand, but they kept a $4,000 ring they found on the dressing table.

From a drawer they drew out a $16,000 string of pearls.

"Oh, dear!" said Mrs. Livermore. "I do wish you wouldn't take that. It's worth ten thousand times more to me than what you can get for it. It's the dearest thing my husband ever gave me."

"All right, madam," said the robber, "you don't have to lose it. Catch!"

And he tossed it to her.

"Is Zat So?"

"Jesse," next remarked the burglar, "what's in the safe?"

"Nothing," said Mr. Livermore, "absolutely nothing, and I've lost the combination."

"Is zat so?" restarted the burglar. He pulled out a hammer, swore, and then apologised to Mrs. Livermore for his language. "I forgot myself; I won't do it again."

Finally the door of the safe yielded. But the safe was bare.

"You always were a man of your word, Jesse," said the burglar ruefully. "I intended to pay you this visit when you were in Florida, and I wish now I'd done so."

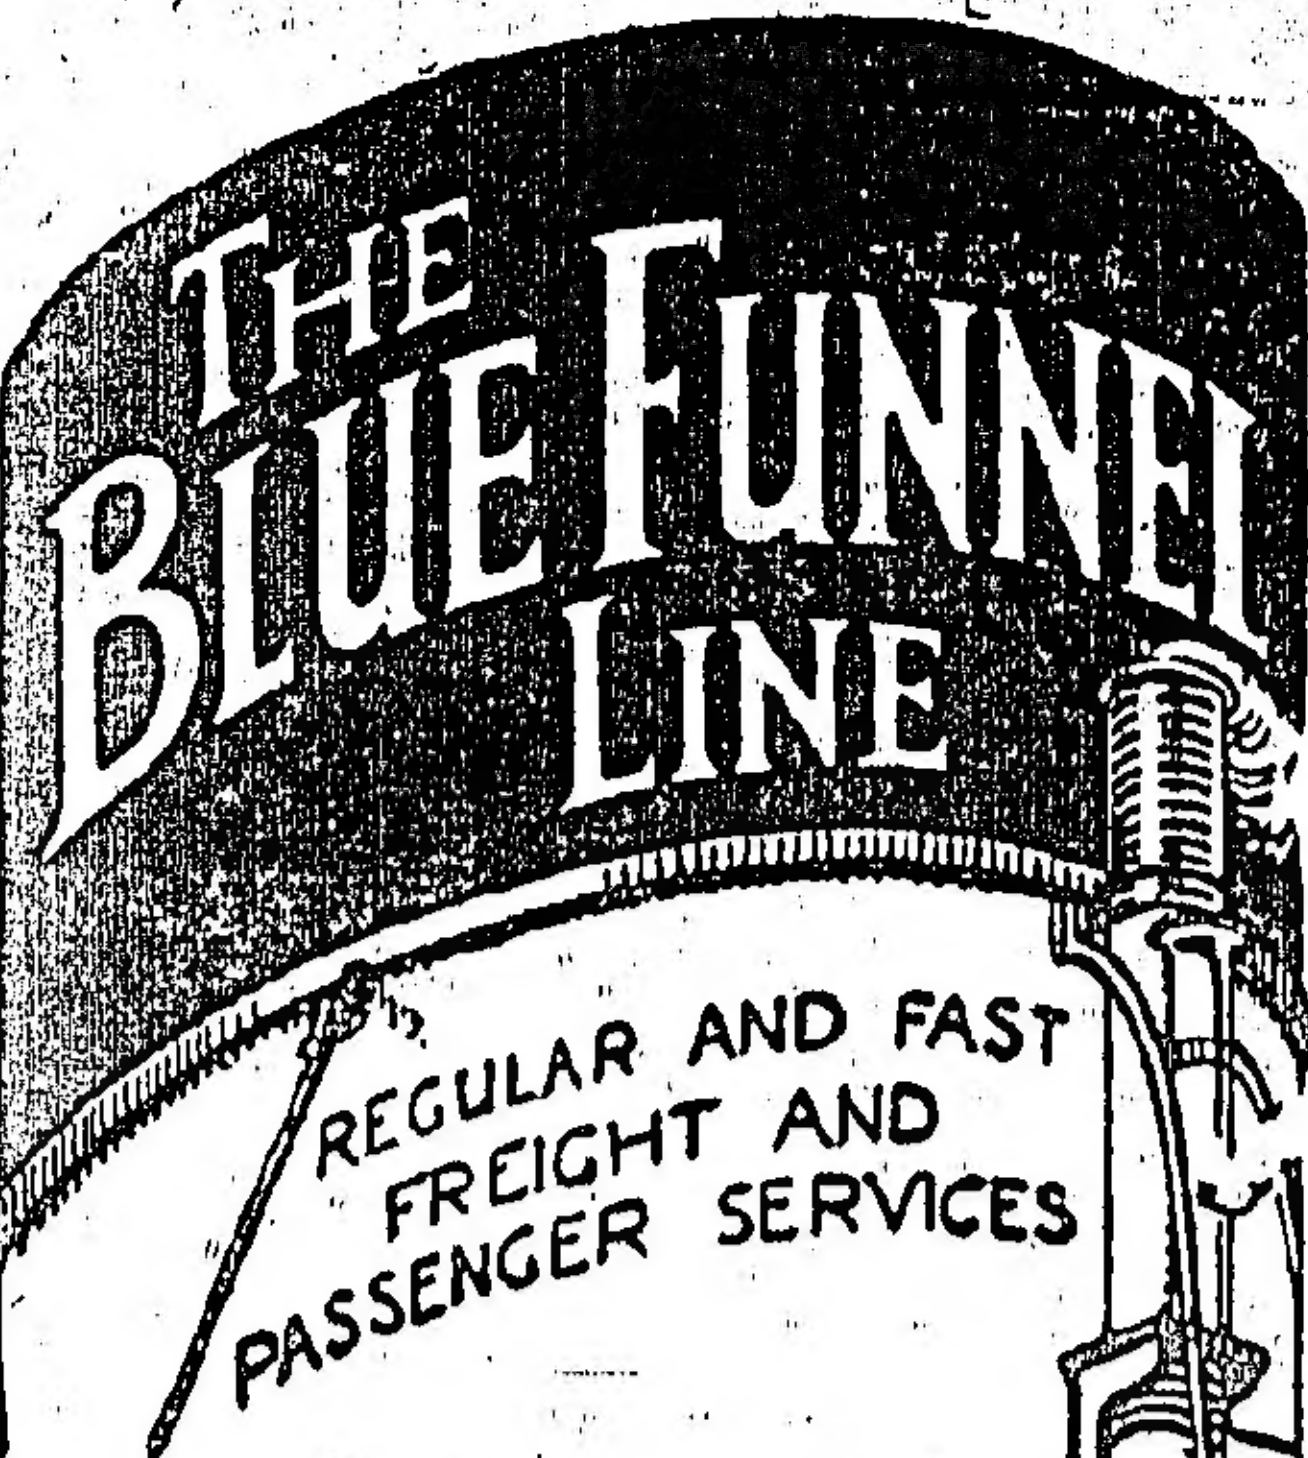

After a further exchange of compliments the burglars handed Mr. Livermore the key of the Aronson's room, saying, "Be sure to let them out, but not until five minutes after we have gone."

The two descended a ladder, helped themselves to a high-powered motor-car, and drove away. Mr. Livermore notified the police, who found the stolen motor-car parked some miles away, where the burglars had abandoned it for another car.

The Livermores place the losses to themselves, and their guests at £19,000.

Two other guests and 12 servants slept, serenely throughout the excitement.

It is expected that at least 1,650 buffalo will be shipped to the northern portion of the province from Wainwright this summer, says an Alberta message. The first shipment was scheduled for May 30th.

St. Vincent de Paul Society 200.00
Seamen's Institute 400.00

Total $9,939.50

In 1925 the net distribution was $1,532.95 and in 1926 the gross distribution $2,042.50.

Yesterday's Games.

Two matches were played at Soekunpoo and Causeway Bay Grounds under the auspices of the South China Athletic Association Summer Football League yesterday afternoon.

In the game Tai Hang "A" v. Wah Mac "B," the former won by a score of six goals to two. Mr. J. S. Shak acted as referee.

In the second, Causeway Bay Club v. Kee Ping, the Causeway Bay defeated their opponents with two goals to nil. Mr. Chan Soo acted as referee.

WIMBLEDON SURPRISES.

COCHET WINS THE SINGLES TITLE.

London, July 2.

In spite of the dull weather, Wimbledon attracted a huge crowd to-day when the singles finals were played, the gates of the centre court being closed before play began.

Helen Wills (America) defeated Sonorita d'Alvarez by 6-2, 6-4, in the final of the Ladies' Open Singles.

The match was a battle between contrasting styles. Helen Wills contented herself with exploiting her fore-hand drive, keeping a good length, while Sonorita d'Alvarez relied on her backhand. She often netted, however, or drove out of the court.

The Spanish girl showed considerable improvement in the second set, and had the better of several baseline duels. She drove a rising ball skilfully. Neither player risked advancing to the net.

In defeating Sonorita d'Alvarez, who also reached the final last year, Miss Helen Wills won the Wimbledon championship for the first time. In 1924, Miss Wills was opposed to Mrs. L. A. Godfree (then Miss Kitty McKane) in the final, but she was defeated.

BOROTRA COLLAPSES.

Beaten After Winning First Two Sets.

Having conquered Tilden in the semi-final, Henri Cochet defeated his countryman, J. Borotra by three sets to two in the final of the Men's Open Singles.

Borotra won the first two sets, but fell away and Cochet won easily. The score was 4-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 7-5.

In the early stages, Borotra relied on his unparalleled volleying at the net. Twice he was within a point of taking the first set at 6-3, but driving too deeply he sacrificed the ninth game, to win the next game for set.

Some excellent backhand strokes won him the second set, and he put up a fine struggle in the third until deuce was called in the eighth game, with Cochet leading 4-3.

Cochet won, making him 5-3, and took the next game to love to win the set.

Borotra's Amazing Failure.

The last two sets were remarkable. In the fourth, Borotra led 4-2 tired and lost it.

In the fifth and final set Borotra again led 5-2, but a long series of rallies in the eighth game ended in Cochet's favour. Thereafter Borotra fell away. Cochet played coolly and confidently and won easily.

[Cochet is another new champion. He reached the final for the first time this year, beating De Kertling (Hungary), Hunter (America) and Tilden (America) in his progress.]

Open Doubles.

In the semi-final of the Open Doubles, J. Brugnon and H. Cochet (France), the holders, defeated Condon and Raymond (South Africa) 6-1, 6-2, 7-5.

Tilden and Hunter qualified to meet the holders in the final by defeating R. Lycett and H. K. Austin (Britain) by 6-0, 10-8, 6-4.

Mixed Doubles.

In the fourth round, D. Grieg and Mrs. Watson defeated Dr. Kehring and Miss Bennett, 7-5, 6-4.

In the third round Kingsley and Mrs. Hill defeated Austin and Miss Betty Nuthall 6-4, 4-0, 6-4.

Ladies Doubles.

Mrs. L. A. Godfree and Miss Betty Nuthall reached the semi-final by defeating Miss Joan Fry and Miss Saunders, 3-6, 6-2, 6-1.—Reuter.

BYRD'S FLIGHT.

PREMATURE BANQUET.

New York, July 2.

Most conflicting reports reached the United States before the glad news arrived confirming the safety of Lt. Comdr. Byrd and his companions.

The wives of two of the latter were sitting at the telegraph wire awaiting reports when it was falsely announced that the "America" had landed at Paris.

Fireworks were immediately dug out, an orchestra was hurried from New York, waiters were obtained and a banquet was soon under way at which the two ladies occupied the seats of honour.

It was only when the sweets course had been served that the report was discovered to be premature.—Reuter's American Service.

The Flags.

New York, July 2.

Lt. Comdr. Byrd has cabled Rodman Wanamaker, owner of the "America," as follows: "Deeply sorry we did not reach Paris. Will report details. Forced landing in the dark at night unavoidable. Will deliver flags by mail."

The flags include one made from pieces of the original American flag by Betty Ross in 1777 and another carried by Byrd over the North Pole.—Reuter's American Service.

French Congratulations.

Paris, July 2.

President Doumergue received and congratulated Chamberlain and Levine and sent congratulations to Lt. Comdr. Byrd and his colleagues.—Reuter.

ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME.

Crowds Meet Byrd at Railway Station.

Paris, July 2.

The Gare St. Lazare presented a very lively appearance when Commander Byrd and his companions arrived from Ver-sur-Mer, the public clamouring to the top of the newspaper kiosks and the railway carriages and even on to the glass roof outside the station in their anxiety to obtain a sight of, and to welcome, the adventurers.

The airman were greeted by representatives of the Government and the American Embassy. Mr. Charles Levine, who also crossed the Atlantic with Chamberlain was present.

All four were showing signs of their trying experiences. They motored in procession to their hotel, amid the wildest enthusiasm.

Commander Byrd and his companions are the guests of Mr. Rodman Wanamaker, their financial backer, and are under the supervision of Dr. Bainbridge, the eminent New York surgeon.—Reuter.

No Question of Record.

Paris, July 3.

Commander Byrd and his colleagues were received with full military honours at the Elysee.

President Doumergue congratulated the airman and Commander Byrd handed him the small silk stars and stripes bordered with pieces of the Betsy Ross flag, which is being placed in the National Museum.

Commander Byrd received journalists at his hotel. Although Commander Byrd flew over forty-two hours, there cannot be any question of a record as long distance records are reckoned in a straight line.—Reuter.

Rewards.

Washington, July 3.

The Secretary for the Navy, Mr. Wilbur, has recommended to President Coolidge the award of the Distinguished Flying Cross to Commander Byrd, and some recognition for his companions.

Mr. Wilbur is considering the feasibility of a Naval world flight following the equator.—Reuter's American Service.

LINDBERGH IN CANADA.

To Participate in Jubilee Celebrations.

Selfridge Bldg., Mich., July 2.

When Lindbergh landed, he was informed that the War Department had ordered twelve aeroplanes to escort him to Ottawa where he is flying to participate in Canada's Jubilee celebrations.—Reuter's American Service.

Two Planes Collide.

Ottawa, July 3.

Lindbergh's arrival was marred by a tragedy. Two of the escorting planes when about to land collided. Lieutenant Johnston was killed.—Reuter's American Service.

DUTCH AVIATION.

Holland to Grant Large Subsidy.

The Hague, July 3.

The first Chamber has unanimously approved a bill providing that the state shall subscribe 500,000 florins to the capital of the Royal Dutch Air Navigation Company and pay a subsidy of 2,800,000 florins spread over a period of seven years.—Reuter.

HENLEY REGATTA.

SUCCESS OF THE THAMES R. C.

London, July 2.

Henley was spoilt by the fact that it rained for practically the whole of the first three days. To-day, final day, the sky was overcast, but huge crowds thronged the banks of the Thames. Mr. Stanley Baldwin, the Prime Minister, was among those present.

Grand Challenge Cup.

In the final of the Grand Challenge Cup, the Thames R. C. beat the London R. C. by three-quarters of a length in 7 min. 10 secs.

Ladies' Plate.

For the Ladies' Plate, First Trinity (Cambridge) defeated Third Trinity (Cambridge) by one and three-quarter lengths in 7 min. 29 secs.

Stewards' Cup.

The Stewards' Cup was won by the Thames R. C. who beat Leander in the final by two lengths in 8 mins. 1 sec.

Diamond Sculls.

The "Diamond Sculls" final was marked by an unfortunate accident, a Canadian competitor, who was leading by a length when only ten yards from home, colliding with the boom. R. Lee (Worcester College, Oxford) beat J. Wright (Canada) by a length and a half in 9 minutes 6 secs.

Thames Cup.

Only a quarter of a length separated Thames R. C. from the Twickenham eight in the final of the Thames Cup, Thames winning in 7 mins. 34 secs.

Wyfold Cup.

Yet a fourth victory fell to the Thames R. C. in the final for the Wyfold Cup. Thames beat Vesta R. C. by two lengths in 8 mins. 23 secs.

Visitors' Cup.

In the Visitors' Cup final, Christ's College (Cambridge) defeated First Trinity (Cambridge) by half a length in 8 minutes 16 seconds.

Silver Goblets.

R. Nisbet and T. O'Brien, a London R. C. pair, won the Silver Goblets by defeating Leander (G. Nickalls and H. Borey) by one and three-quarter lengths in 9 minutes 23 seconds.—Reuter.

and dislocation of services, but that they had decided pending resumption of normal trading by the company's services to review the position of each quarter and if, in their opinion, the results justify it, to pay the 10 per cent. for such quarter. The Guilds, however, ignored this proposal and demanded that adjustment and arbitration boards should be called under the agreement of May, 1916. They also have stated that the company intend to jettison the whole of that agreement. This is absolutely incorrect. The 1916 agreement dealt with certain provisions with regard to pension scheme, scale of pay, home leave and recognition of the Guilds, and the company's attitude with regard to such provisions remains unchanged but they made it quite clear in a letter to the Guilds dated December 11, 1917, when all the outstanding questions in the 1916 settlement had been settled, that any future reference to arbitration must be by mutual consent.

Letter to the Guilds.

This letter read as follows:
"All the outstanding questions in the settlement on May 12, 1916, between the companies and the captains' and officers' representatives having now been settled, our principals have instructed us to advise you that so far as they are concerned any future proposals to refer to arbitration must be by mutual consent."

"At the same time, they desire it to be made perfectly clear that this is by no means to be taken as an indication that the China Navigation Company is opposed to arbitration; it means only that the company cannot hold itself bound to submit any and all questions which may possibly arise to arbitration and be bound by the result."

Compulsory arbitration in any and all points would create an impossible position in any business. The company have always maintained that they cannot agree to submit any and all questions which may arise in connexion with their business to arbitration.
They have taken pains to ascertain and confirm that their attitude is a correct one and they are prepared to support their position by all reasonable and legitimate means.

While the company deplore the action of the Guilds in forcing the issue by deliberately choosing to call a strike, they feel they cannot depart from their position because such extreme measures are employed.

PACIFIC FLIGHT.

eating to tell newspapermen, free of charge, the complete story of their flight, for which they had just turned down $10,000.

The two lieutenants expressed pleasure at having been given the trans-Pacific assignment, but modestly insisted that there were many pilots and navigators in the army air service who undoubtedly would have performed the task satisfactorily.

When questioned about their food, Maitland explained that they had taken only water since they started, the food having been so securely stowed under the piloting board cover that they were unable to find it.

Their Experiences.

Wheeler Field, June 29.—The story of the epochal flight of Lieutenants Lester Maitland and A. K. Hegenberger from Oakland to Wheeler Field, Hawaii, as told to the Associated Press, follows:

"We made our flight by dead reckoning, with the aid of a few celestial observations. The radio beacon worked fine for an hour after we took off, and then went off. It came back again for a short time last night."

"When we landed we had enough gas left for 800 miles more of flying. There were more than 250 gallons left in the tanks."

"We fought unfavourable weather conditions all the way.
In the night we flew at an altitude of 10,000 feet in order to get above the clouds so that we could observe the stars. During the day, we flew practically all the time at an altitude of 300 feet in order to be under the clouds."

"We didn't always know our position but we didn't get lost."
"We had motor trouble with the centre engine at midnight, but we got it to function perfectly before we landed."

"We had no chow during the trip. We couldn't find the coffee and sandwiches. They were stowed away somewhere in the plane,
the Lord only knows where."

Due to the heavy rains of the last few days, there was a small fall of earth on the Wong Nei Chung Gap Road, leading to Repulse Bay. Although sufficient to block all motor traffic, the fall was not very great.

LEIPZIG AUTUMN
FAIR.

PREPARATIONS FOR A BIG EVENT.

The Leipzig Autumn Fair 1927 will be held from August 28th till September 3rd. The Textile Fair, a branch of the Sample Fair, will,
at the special request of the textile industry committee, be opened for 5 days, instead of 4, that is to say, from August 28th till 1st September. The Shoe and Leather Fair will, as usual, be opened for 4 days, that is to say, from August 28th till August 31st. The Building Fair and the Technical Fair will have the same duration as the Sample Fair. The Technical Fair, as in Autumn of last year, will not be so extensive as in Spring, as several of the exhibiting firms only attend the Spring Fairs.
The House of Electrotechnics will also in all probability remain closed.

Like former fairs this Autumn
Fair will again bring important novelties in various sections. As part of the Leipzig Textile Fair,
a special Fair for "German Sport Clothing and Equipment" will be held from August 28th till September 1st. It will be accommodated in the rooms of the Grassi Textile Fair House. This special Fair will be connected with a competition for clothing the German Olympia candidates for Amsterdam and for the introduction of a standard sport. The exhibition will also bring together the leading sport and gymnastic requisites industry with a view to standardizing hygienic, fashionable, and economic clothing and equipment for the sporting world.

The National Union of Chocolate Business Proprietors of Germany, registered in 1906, and the Swiss House, Joint Stock Co., will organize the Confectionery Fair
as a National Confectionery Fair.
This new National Confectionery Fair will be much more extensive than the former special Confectionery Fair in the Swiss House and it will be held in hall 7 on the exhibition ground.

Building Section.

The Building Fair in the exhibition grounds will be considerably extended this Autumn. Several special exhibitions and important meetings will be held in connexion with it. Special worthy of mention is an exhibition "Das Siedlungshaus" (garden-colony house) with ground plans, building materials and other necessary requisites, more especially furniture. Then there will also be the 4th. Brick Building Exhibition, such as was already held with success during the Autumn Fair 1926.
The "German Building Week" will be held during the Building Fair.
It will be arranged by the German Economic Union for the Building
Trade, by the German Employers'
Union for the Building Trade, and by the Corporation of German Building Masters. There will also be a special exhibition for street building. The main attraction this year will be practical demonstrations (street-laying machines, street-laying with various materials, probably laying of an experimental street). A limited number of scientific lectures will also be given.

On the exhibition grounds there will also be a large hygienic exhibition with a special section for travelling and health resorts.

The International Aerological Commission will also meet during the Fair. This commission does research work in atmospherical conditions. In this connexion it is intended to hold a special exhibition of those firms which manufacture apparatus and instruments for examining the atmosphere.

The skeleton of a gigantic animal that lived about 3,000,000 years ago has been discovered by engineers who are building a railroad between Turkestan and Siberia. The beast is believed to have been a saurian.

SPANISH REFORMS.

NATIONAL ASSEMBLY TO MEET IN AUTUMN.

An official Note has been issued explaining the functions of the National Assembly, which will meet in the autumn.

It will consist of about 300 members, who will meet once a week in a purely consultative capacity, forming committees to investigate proposed laws presented by the Government.

They will also discuss Government estimates and arrange the reorganization of the Civil Service after investigating the records of recent years.

The Assembly will also prepare the elections for the new Parliament, in which men and women will have votes, and of which both sexes can become members.

Eventually the new Parliament will undertake the reform of the national Constitution.

General Primo de Rivera, in concluding the Note, says that he believes the country will support him in refusing to accept the extraordinary ideas which have caused enormous damage in countries such as Russia.

RUSSIAN STAR IN BRITISH FILM.

SIR HARRY LAUDER'S
SCREEN PARTNER.

Tall, slim, wonderful dark eyes shining like pansies in her square face, with its high Slavonic cheek bones, an ivory and rose complexion crowned by fair short hair.

This is how Mme. Vera Veronina, the Russian film actress who has come from Hollywood to act in a film with Sir Harry Lauder, appeared to a Daily Express representative.

The film in which they are to act is a version of Mr. John Buchan's book, "Huntingtower," and Mme.
Veronina was brought all the way from California to Cricklewood because the producer, Mr. T. A.
Walsh, happened to see her in a film studio, and, without knowing her nationality, decided that
"she looked like a Russian princess."

Her life and adventures have in many respects been similar to those of the Russian princesses in "Huntingtower." She belongs to an old Russian family, and is now only in her early twenties.

HOW MUCH DO YOU KNOW

The following are the replies

to-day's questions:—
1. Southern Italy. Hannibal. Varro.
"Alice Through the Looking-Glass."
Stewart, commonly known as James Glasgow. 4. Inventor of the Popish Plot.
Charles II's reign. 6. Carthage.
Charles II. 7. After Sir Robert Peel of the name of the tower. 8. Sword used by Garibaldi. 10. The Aztec Cross. 11. An Asian mountain, south-west of Lake Vikhar. 12. Four. 13. Teller. 14.

"I was born in Kiev," she
"where my father held an offi-position. The Bolsheviks threatened to imprison my father if they refused to spy, and managed to escape to Vienna where I obtained work in a car-ret, and also as a mannequin.
One night, when I was in a cafe with my husband, a film producer came over to us, explained that I had real 'film face,' and offered to make a trial. Later a Stockholm producer saw one of my pictures and offered me an engagement.
Another offer came while I was in Stockholm, this time from a Holwood producer."

Some of the scenes of "Huntingtower" will be filmed in Nor-umberland and others near London.
